13 April 2018

Excellency,

I have been following the third cycle of the Universal Periodic Review (UPR) of Peru and welcome the constructive engagement of your Government during the 28th session of the UPR Working Group in November 2017.

As the final outcome report on the review of Peru was recently adopted by the Human Rights Council at its 37th session, I am writing to follow up on a number of areas raised in two reports that my Office prepared for the review – the compilation of UN information and the summary of stakeholders’ submissions – which I consider in need of particular attention over the next four and a half years until the next cycle of the UPR. In identifying these areas, I have also considered the recommendations made by 69 countries, Peru’s presentation and responses, and the action taken by the Government to implement the 129 recommendations it accepted during the second UPR cycle. The areas cover a range of issues and are set out in the annex to this letter.

Among the subjects discussed during the review of Peru, I am particularly encouraged by the establishment of the National Commission against Discrimination and the “Alert against Racism platform”, and I encourage Peru to share this good practice with other countries. I also welcome the recent approval of the third National Human Rights Action Plan 2018-2021, with the inclusion of the LGBTI persons, and the incorporation of a strategic objective on the implementation of the international standards regarding business and human rights.

I encourage Peru to implement its third national human rights action plan in order to achieve concrete results in the areas contained in the annex and to facilitate Peru’s preparations for the fourth cycle of the UPR. The implementation of the national human rights action plan should include consultations with all stakeholders, in particular civil society organisations, and, where necessary, the support of international organizations, including the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) and other United Nations entities under the leadership of the UN Resident Coordinator.

H E. Mr. Néstor Popolizio Bardales
Minister of Foreign Affairs
Peru
I also encourage Peru to strengthen its national mechanism for comprehensive reporting and follow up in relation to international and regional human rights mechanisms and treaty obligations. I strongly recommend to Peru the use of the practical guide that my Office released in 2016 on this topic and which is available at: http://www.ohchr.org/Documents/Publications/HR_PUB_16_1_NMRF_PracticalGuide.pdf

Please be advised that I will be sharing my advice with all Member States as they go through the third cycle with a view to assisting them to begin implementing the UPR recommendations early on, following the review. An important measure that can contribute positively to follow up action is voluntary mid-term reporting. I strongly encourage all Member States to submit a voluntary mid-term report two years after the adoption of the outcome report. In this regard, I encourage Peru to submit such a report for the third cycle, by 2020.

As the Secretary-General states in his 2017 report on the work of the Organization (A/72/1, paragraph 98): “The Human Rights Council’s universal periodic review process is now entering a new cycle, with every Member State scheduled for a third round of scrutiny. We will work to strengthen the relevance, precision and impact of the Council’s recommendations, including by providing better support to Member States in implementation, stronger collaboration with United Nations country teams and the establishment of national mechanisms for human rights reporting and follow-up to link the universal periodic review to the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals.”

I look forward to discussing with you ways in which my Office may assist Peru to take action in the areas I have identified.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

Zeid Ra’ad Al Hussein
High Commissioner for Human Rights

Annex

Scope of international obligations and cooperation with international human rights mechanisms and bodies

National human rights framework

- Implement the National Human Rights Action Plan 2018-2021, in consultation with, and through the participation of a broad range of stakeholders.

- Develop a National Plan of Action on Business and Human Rights in accordance with the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.

Implementation of international human rights obligations, taking into account applicable international humanitarian law

A. Cross-cutting issues

Equality and non-discrimination

- Adopt legislation to expressly prohibit and sanction discrimination and violence based on sexual orientation and gender identity.

B. Civil and political rights

Rights to life, liberty and security of person

- Strengthen measures to prevent police violence and effectively investigate cases of unlawful killings, violence, torture and other forms of ill-treatment involving police, security forces and prison personnel;

- Adopt additional measures to improve the conditions in prisons and other detention centres, including to address overcrowding and degrading conditions, sanitation, and medical care.

Administration of justice, including impunity and the rule of law

- Strengthen measures aimed at combating impunity for crimes against humanity and grave human rights violations.

Fundamental freedoms and the right to participate in public and political life

- Adopt concrete measures to ensure the protection of human rights defenders, including through the establishment of a dedicated mechanism and the finalization of the protocol of protection.
C. Economic, Social and Cultural Rights

Right to an adequate standard of living

- Enhance the promotion of economic and social development, poverty reduction, and improve people’s living standards, particularly in rural areas.

Right to health

- Strengthen efforts to provide accessible, inclusive and quality health care for all throughout the country, including in rural areas;

- Increase access to family planning, comprehensive sexual education and sexual and reproductive health care, and decriminalize abortion in cases of rape, incest, non-viability of the foetus and endangerment to the mother’s health.

Right to education

- Take additional measures to improve the accessibility and quality of public education—including intercultural education-, ensuring inclusive education, particularly in rural areas.

D. Rights of specific persons or groups

Women

- Pursue efforts towards gender equality and to combat all forms of discrimination against women and girls;

- Strengthen measures aimed at combatting and eliminating violence against women, including domestic violence and femicide; take all necessary measures to improve multisectoral actions, prosecution, awareness raising programmes; and improve emergency centres for women and girls.

Children

- Strengthen efforts to reduce child poverty and to eliminate child labour.

Minorities and indigenous peoples

- Improve the process of prior consultation with indigenous peoples in the context of extractive sector projects; adopt an effective plan of action for the demarcation and protection of indigenous lands.

- Strengthen measures to protect the rights and inclusion of persons of African descent in development policies and plans.

- Adopt further effective measures and policies aimed at combating stigma and discrimination against indigenous peoples and Afro-Peruvians, including in access to education, employment and health.
