To the authorities of the Human Rights Committee of the UN.

Excellencies,

We believe our duty to express to your Excellencies our opinion on the issue of Human Rights in Cuba, a country that has been unjustly prosecuted and attacked. It has never been able to test a flagrant and massive violation of human rights in Cuba. What is easy to see is how much is being done in Cuba for guaranteeing the rights of all its citizens, first of all, the right to a dignified life.

In the present world, unfortunately, many people suffered hungry, pain, wars and premature death. In many countries there are like a plaintiff reproaches en face the United Nations, the displaced persons, who die before reaching 50 years of existence; the illiterate, children exploited and forced to work as slaves, these do not even know they have rights!. In any of those lists, we will find one Cuban citizen.

Many countries of the called First World wanted to achieve levels of development and social justice that Cuba has maintained face up many difficulties, like the cruel blockade that United States has been keeping against the cuban people over the years.

We live in a developed country, where we have not guarantee or protection for the most vulnerable population: retired people, unemployed, one million of our citizens who are falling below the poverty line.

For us, Cuba has been and is, an example.

With our respect and considerations,
